DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the all the reference numerals cited in the specification or claims must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Philofsky, US 3271600 in view of Glauning, US 6087744. Philofsky, US 3271600 discloses:

An electrical machine having

- a rotor which is mounted such that it can rotate, (inherent)
- an associated, stationary stator 10, and
- a device for cooling at least the stator or parts of it (inherent)

Characterized in that the cooling device has at least one surface 56 of a refrigeration unit, to which the parts of the stator to be cooled are thermally coupled via a close line system (tubes 52 and ducts 18) in the area of the stator parts to be cooled, [and in which a circulation of a coolant is provided or is carried out on the basis of a thermosiphon effect], with the coolant being heated (inherent) or at least partially vaporized in the area of the stator parts to be cooled.

Philofsky, US 3271600 does not expressly disclose the bracketed material. Glauning, US 6087744 teaches using a thermosiphon to circulate cooling fluid for a stator to obviate the need for a separate pump, see column 3, lines 40-44. At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to replace circulation pump 55 of Philofsky, US 3271600 with a thermosiphon. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this so that no separate pump is needed.

Re claim 2, note cooler 56 of Philofsky, US 3271600.

Re claims 3-5 note that the half coils 16 for cooling channels which traverse the axial length of the core and are coupled to every lamination of core 10.

Re claim 6, note radial vent ducts 14.
